Click on "Remove UserWay Branding."	A new menu appears, and the curser moves to click on "Enable Now."
Again, in "Remove UserWay Branding," click on "Enable Now."	A toggle menu headed "My Sites" appears, showing all sites selected
Here you will select in which sites you want to enable white label. In this tutorial, I'm going to enable this option in just one site.	The cursor clicks on the "Select All" toggle to deselect all the sites.

The cursor clicks the "Hide Manage link" button. "Manage Link" disappears and is replaced by an asterisk.
Also, let's hide the "Manage" link. If you enable this option, then the "Manage" link will convert into an asterisk. So, will still be able to click on the asterisk, log in, and manage your widget. I'll show you guys now. I'm going to enable the option. The "Manage" link has disappeared.	The cursor clicks on the asterisk, and the widget settings menu appears.

Let's continue removing User branding. So, I'm going back to "Remove User Branding," and again, in Remove User Branding, here you can also check your billing and the sites where you have removed UserWay Branding. So, if you want to go back to white label settings, then click on "Configure." There's also the option to hide the asterisk. So, I'm going to do that.	The cursor clicks the "Donation" toggle, and then the "close widget" icon.
Right now, we just have the "Donate" link that we can also hide. I'm going to close the widget, refresh the site, and show you what you will see.	The site refreshes. The cursor clicks the UserWay icon and the Accessibility window appears. The widget settings menu appears.
